MISSION and DEFINITION

The mission of Impact Life Transformational Programs is to help women and families win! Impact was formed to foster, develop, educate and effect positive change for families. Impact provides inspiration through seminars, workshops, life coaching, consultations and books, to build faith and confidence, enough to increase the quality of their lives.

Impact focuses on personal and practical self-concept, development, social skills, visionary and leadership training. Disadvantaged women, youth and families are committed to long-term growth endeavors that support and uncover unrealized potentials, work ethics and success.

Impact began in Wichita, Kansas in 1990. Dorothy M Elder, founder and program director, felt burdened and concerned for those, who had a perception of being underprivileged. Dorothy knew that a deficient mindset of poverty and lack had to be reassessed. In 1999, Impact expanded its reach to, Greater Kansas City, Kansas and Missouri.

FAMILY PROBLEMS and CHALLENGES

Too many women are the center of strength for their entire family. They strongly influence the behavior of their children and those around them. Impacts teaching components, give courage, strength and vision to women, who otherwise yield to defeat. They need to see more than they have before.

There is a direct correlation between crime and the challenges that urban families face.

Urban women are taxed with repercussions of singleness, poverty, separation, loneliness, codependency, crime, and the Juvenile Justice System. Parenting challenges and raising grandchildren are also culprits that are highly damaging to urban families and our community. Families learn to take forward steps toward winning and inter-independence. Families experiencing broken situations, are supported, until they are able to make significant life changes.

Everyone is welcome but a variety of programs are in place that build the esteem of urban women and families. Abstract studies concerning (urban women), show that codependency issues must be understood before they can be overcome. Impact helps urban women change themselves, their children and socio- economic circumstances.

PARENTING

It is imperative that urban women experience vision building and awareness to positively encounter growth for themselves and their children. Children and teens learn positive attributes from their parents or not. We care that these children positively have the hope needed to change their futures, families and community. Leadership skills are vital for women and youth. Intervention and support create vision and endurance.
